Dedication

TO UNESCO

On behalf of the youth who issue this volume, of the faculty members and administrators who are most interested in it, and of all who may read this page, this 1947 Hyakem is dedicated to the United Nations Economic Scientific Cultural Organization.

It is dedicated to the great one world organization that is developing among the peoples of the world with a speed never approached before in 10,000 years.

The volume is also dedicated to the little miniature, incomplete, and largely unconscious UNESCO, which is developing within each of us. Both are very real, and will become more so as they are brought together into clearer consciousness.

Colleges and college annuals exist to create the great UNESCO in the world at large and the miniature UNESCO within each individual.

Foreword

With the hope that we have put into a more lasting form the memories of events and activities which have made this year different from all others, we present the 1947 Hyakem.

President's Message

The autumn term of 1946-47 opened with a student enrollment that surpassed even the pre-war years. This enlarged student population brought with it a renewal in all of the usual collegiate organizations and college activities. New in the history of the college were enrollments of a hundred married men and over four hundred war veterans. Many of the single men students were housed in the buildings at the Ellensburg air-base until four dormitories could be moved from Bremerton. By January we completed the four dormitories and a cafeteria. Likewise an addition to Munson Hall for men got underway. The college capacity is now at one thousand. We should be ready by next year to accommodate twelve hundred students.

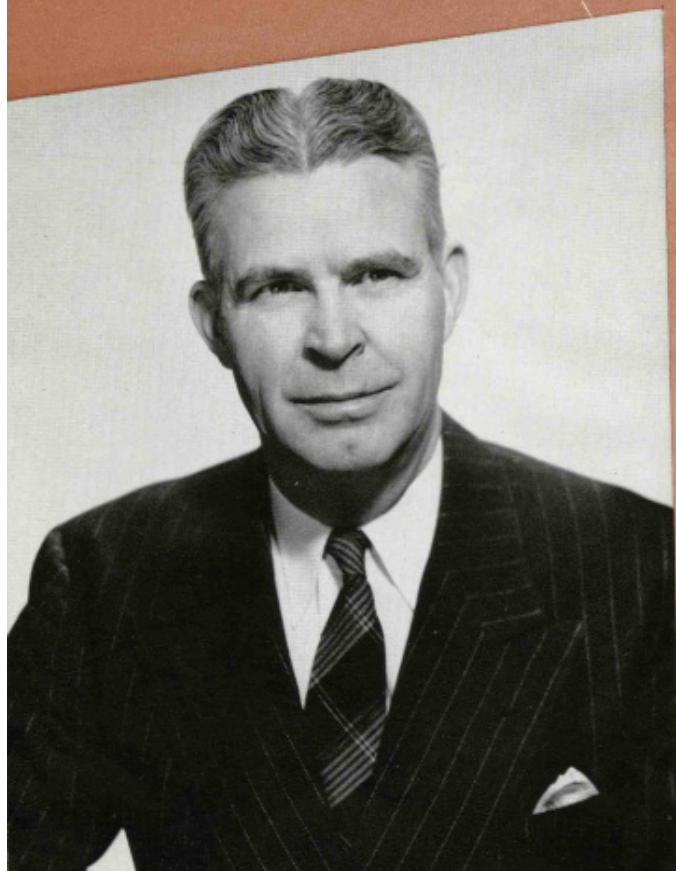

We have started the construction of a new science building which will enable the college to offer the many science classes that are needed in all of our educational programs. The added buildings have necessitated the construction of an enlarged and modern heating plant which likewise is underway.

The science building, heating plant, addition to Munson Hall, a new residence for the president, the four temporary dormitories and cafeteria, and forty-eight houses for married students are all assured and constitute the first of the substantial post-war expansion to care for our share of the many students who are seeking higher education.

The Hyakem portrays in picture and word all of the many expansions in housing and in college activities. It records a successful and happy year for all.

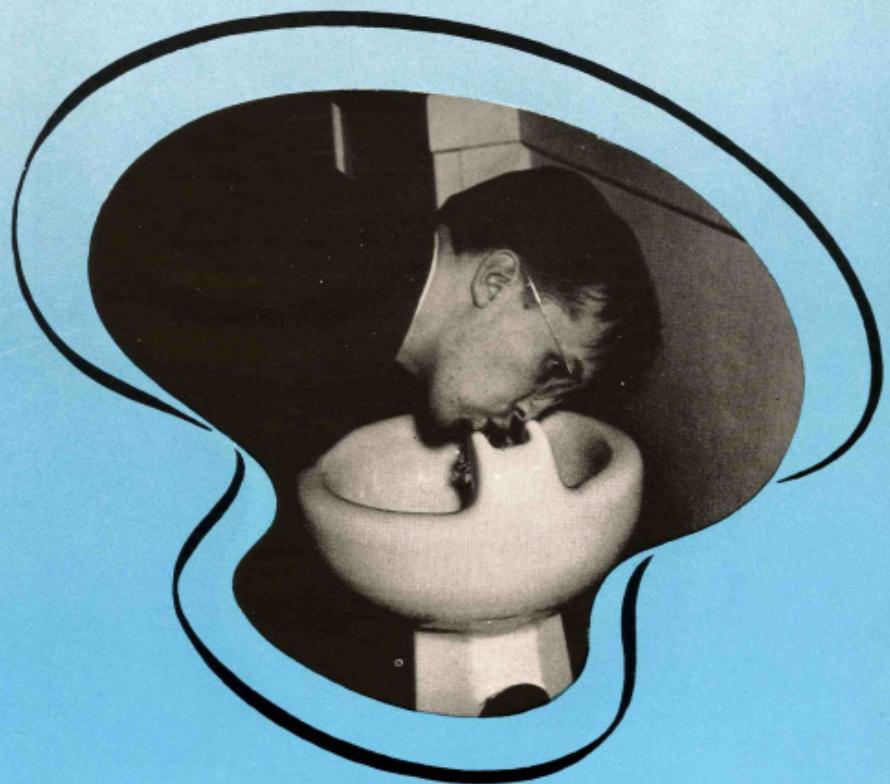

The Editor of the Hyakem and her staff are to be complimented upon the production of this excellent yearbook. I am happy to join the faculty and students in having a part in making this record possible. We extend to the seniors our very best wishes as they leave the halls of our campus for new challenges that lie ahead. May there be many occasions when they shall return to renew college associations.

THE DEANS SPEAK:

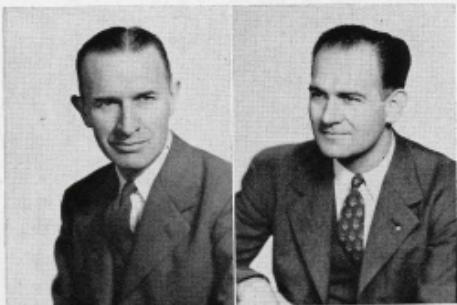

The main objective of the Dean of Women's office is the guidance and counselling of women students. Some of the special functions of this office include supervision of the women's dormitories, the college calendar, the campus social program, off-campus employment for women, and loan funds, as well as advisory work for the Associated Women Students, the Student Government Association social department, and the Iyoptians. College women are cordially invited to use the Dean of Women's office as a clearing house for their problems.

ANNETTE H. HITCHCOCK
Dean of Women

School annuals are really perennials—they never stop "blooming." They always serve to remind us of other days, and they're always sources of new-found delight. And so this annual, though it bears the date 1947, will remain for each of us an always fresh remembrance of days at C. W. C.

The annual Junior Class Barn Dance was the main event sponsored by the Junior Class this year. Existing city fire restrictions which prevented the utilization of various means of decoration, the traditional affair was a huge success and was attended by a very large crowd clad in jeans, shirts, and barn yard apparel.

The usual beard-growing contest was sponsored, with a great many students co-operating in the contest, and the fried chicken raffle was also included in the evening of fun.

CENTRAL WASHINGTON COLLEGE BAND

★ BAND - ORCHESTRA - CHOIR

Grand performances by all the organizations in the Music Department were presented this year. The department has grown tremendously with the increased enrollment of music students, and has had a very successful year.

The band, under the direction of Cloice E. Myers, and having two student directors, Clarence George and Robert Yetter, gave four outstanding presentations, besides performances at all basketball games. At the end of winter quarter, the band toured Wapato, Toppenish, and Sunnyside, and in March, presented a concert on campus. On May third, the organization participated in the annual Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival, and also played for part of the commencement exercises in June.

The orchestra was formed only to play for the "Mikado," and was not a functional organization throughout the year.

Under the direction of Stanley Linton, the choir presented the "Nativity" in conjunction with the Speech Department on December 13th and 14th. The "Mikado" was given March 1st, and the "Messiah" presented April 3rd. Guest soloists for the performance were: Miss Margaret Scruggs, Soprano; Georgiana Moe, Alto; Ralph Schreiner, Tenor; and Sten Englund, Bass.

On April 30th, and May 1st and 2nd, the A Capella Choir toured on the coast, Seattle, Tacoma, and Centralia being the principle cities where concerts were presented. Both the men and women's octets performed at various times during the year, and participated in the programs presented on the tour.

FINE AND APPLIED ARTS

The Fine and Industrial Arts Department of Central Washington College has been growing steadily during the past ten years until it has attained the top-rank position in the state of Washington. While primarily a teacher-training department, the two year commercial art program is attracting some of the best art students in the state.

Every member of the department is a specialist in some branch of Fine or Industrial Arts, and with this division of interest in labor, they have become enthusiastic boosters of our program. Each one participates or sponsors several of the art activities on campus such as art exhibits, bazaars, art trips, Alpha Beta Chapter of Beta Phi, national art honorary, and many lesser art functions.

During the past year an Art Workshop featuring Felix Payant, nationally known editor and publisher of Design Magazine, was conducted on the campus, and the attendance by art constructioners in the state of Washington was so great that the department was scarcely able to accommodate them.

Also during this year much new equipment in the form of cupboards, compressors, tools, and lockers have been added, and a new art room on the fourth floor of the Administration building is being finished to take care of the demand for extra space, giving us four large laboratory rooms in the future.

Last but not least is the constant display of art education material featured in the walk-way of the Administration building. The art department, through the efforts of the faculty and students, has religiously kept an ever-changing show of the best art exhibits and class room work on display in the halls where everyone in school may enjoy them.

DRAMA

The first major dramatic production of the year was Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman's comedy, "George Washington Slept Here." Acted and staged by the members of the Dramatic Production class and directed by Norman Howell, the play was presented in the college auditorium during the latter part of fall quarter. The cast: Mr. Kimber, Leonard Juhnke; Newton Fuller, George Maneff; Annabelle Fuller, Naydene Johnson; Madge Fuller, Christine Nesbitt; Steve Eldridge, James Ware; Katie, Barbara Clark; Mrs. Douglas, Alice Carlson; Clayton Evans, Al Thornton; Rena Leslie, Michael Chapman; Hester, Wilmina Gilchrist; Prudence, Margaret Urie; Uncle Stanley, Dan Ranniger; Leggett Frazer, Bob Nolte; Tommy Hughes, Charles Zafforoni; Sue Barrington, LaVerne Halgren; Miss Wilcox, Phyllis Hunt; and Mr. Prescott, Dave Marsh.

Instead of producing a second full-length play in the winter term, the Drama Department joined the Music Department in the presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "The Mikado," in the auditorium on March 7th. Gerhardt Dieckmann, stage manager for the Drama Department; Dan Ranniger, member of the Dramatic Production Class; and Dawn Zimmerman and Robert Harckema, students of the Art Department, designed, constructed and decorated the set for "The Mikado" under the supervision of Mr. Norman Howell and Mr. Neil Koch. Mr. Willard Stevens directed the acting of the principals and the stage deportment of the chorus. Make-up was done by members of the Maskers and Jesters Club.

In the spring quarter a program of one-act plays by British and American authors was staged in the Little Theater. The presentation of the plays in the Little Theater with its limited seating capacity necessitated four performances of the bill. The successive performances contributed greatly to the experience of the student actors by their appearing several times in the same play before different audiences.

DANCE

Several outstanding courses are offered in Dance for both men and women students at CWC. American Dance includes square dancing, couple dancing, such as the schottische and polka, and some social dancing. Ballroom dance is offered in the winter and autumn. Basic Rhythms which consists of physical education and dance activities approached through an analysis of the rhythmic forms of movement, and working with percussion instruments is also included in the dance courses. Dance I, an introduction to dance as an art form, covers discussions of the history and philosophy of dance and practice in body movement and control. Dance II is the composition dance course which deals with more advanced techniques of modern dance study, principles of composition as related to dance, and opportunities to create original dances.

The Do-si-do Club has been revived on the campus this year, with a considerable enrollment and much enthusiasm. The club sponsored an evening of fun on May 14th, taking the place of the regular SGA Wednesday night dances. Square dances, schottisches, simple mixers and the grand march were featured throughout the evening.

★ FOOTBALL

Opening the 1946 football season against Whitworth College at Spokane, Central steamrolled to a 21 to 7 victory. Running and passing were the keynotes of the attack.

Central's first loss of the season went to the University of Washington B Squad at Seattle by a score of 20 to 7. The B's out-distanced Central in the air and on the ground.

On a muddy home field Central took its second league game of the season, by defeating St. Martin's, 7 to 6. Although out-gained on the ground, Central came through with the winning score.

Playing for all they were worth, Central's team came from behind a 13 to 0 score at P. L. C. to win 27 to 20. Ed Bartlett's ninety-two yard touchdown run was the highlight of the game.

Eastern Washington's supposedly "bomb-proof" team left the Ellensburg Homecoming after losing the annual football game, 7 to 6. Central had Cheney beat all the way.

At Lewiston, Ida., the Central Gladiators walked off with a 26 to 6 win from the Lewiston Normal. L. G. Carmody's three touchdowns topped the bill.

The highlight of the season was the annual invitational Pear-Bowl game at Ashland, Oregon, on Thanksgiving Day. The League Champions lost a hard-fought game on a muddy field to Southern Oregon College of Education by a score of 12 to 8.

The Wildcats, 1946 Winco League Champions, were honored further by the selection of their fullback, L. G. Carmody, to play in the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco.

The squad of 1946 held tight to the 1942 Winco Championship which Phil Sarboe's team won before the war. Along with this C. W. climaxed their season by going to the Pear-Bowl and sending their ace L. G. Carmody to the Shriner's All-Star East-West game at San Francisco. Central with only two graduating seniors from the squad, Kinney and L. G. Carmody, can expect to have one of her best teams next year.

Central Washington had three men on the All-Stars of the Winco League. L. G. Carmody, full-back chosen to go to the Shrine game; Edward Bartlett, fast-moving back from Toledo, Oregon; and Leo Hake, blocking star from Ellensburg. Bob Osgood, regular Central guard was named second all-star aggressor.

AWARDS

L. G. Carmody, fullback star was awarded the Honorary Captaincy by his teammates and the Inspirational Award by the W Club for the 1946 season. His outstanding ability and leadership were duly worthy of this acclaim.

Leo Hake, ex-navy man and star conference tackle was the recipient of the Blocking Honors. His offensive play was outstanding, and charging through opposing lines, he constantly upset plays before they were even started.

COACHES

Central was piloted by new coaches this year, Johnny Londahl, who succeeded Jerry Lillie, and Arnie Faust, former Central athlete, assistant coach.

Londahl and Faust did every good job possible as Central's winning six out of the eight games and the Winco Championship reveals.

L. G. CARMODY

"Elgie," fullback star of C. W. C. E., started his football career in 1940. War interrupted his play for a while, but in 1945 he returned to Central to play once again. Helping C. W. C. in basketball and track, he stayed on to complete his final year. During the season 1946-47 "Elg" was the main stay and pilot of our squad. Being a good runner he led the conference in scoring.

As a result of his outstanding ability he was elected to play in the East-West All-Star game at San Francisco on New Year's Day. L. G. is the first Central student to have this honor. It is a rare occasion that a fellow is chosen from the smaller schools.

Along with this honor, his teammates elected him as Honorary Captain for this season, and the W Club of Central awarded to him the coveted Inspirational Rotary Award.

HONOR AWARDS

The CWC Hoop Squad in winding up its 1947 season, voted a dual honor to Hank Sliva, of Aberdeen, a two year veteran forward on the team.

Sliva was not only elected inspirational winner for the past season, but was also voted as honorary captain. Sliva returned to Central last fall after completing war service.

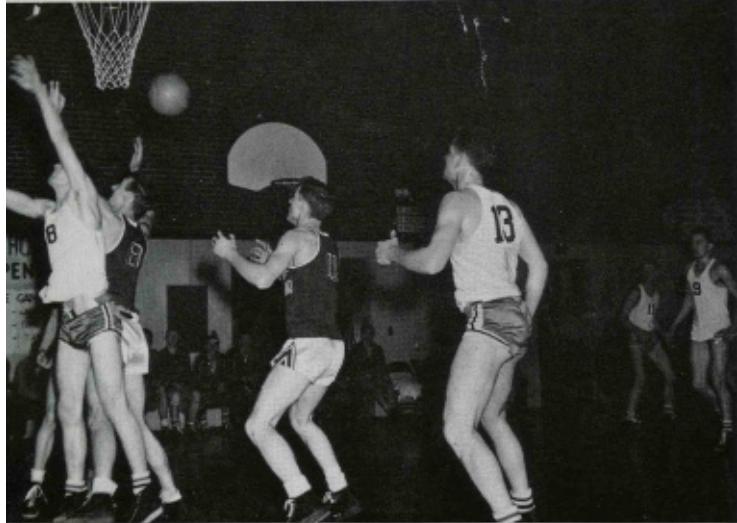

ALL-STARS

The Washington Intercollegiate conference basketball coaches chose Fred Peterson and Dean Nicholson as stars for the All-Star Winco Team of 1947.

These two fellows were among top scorers in the league, Peterson having 179 points and Nicholson, 141.

SENIORS IN SQUAD

Jack Hubbard, Wildcat guard, and Mickey Rogers, forward, are the two seniors leaving Central this year. These hoopsters will be missed greatly, but with eight returning squadsmen, Central has a promising '48 season.

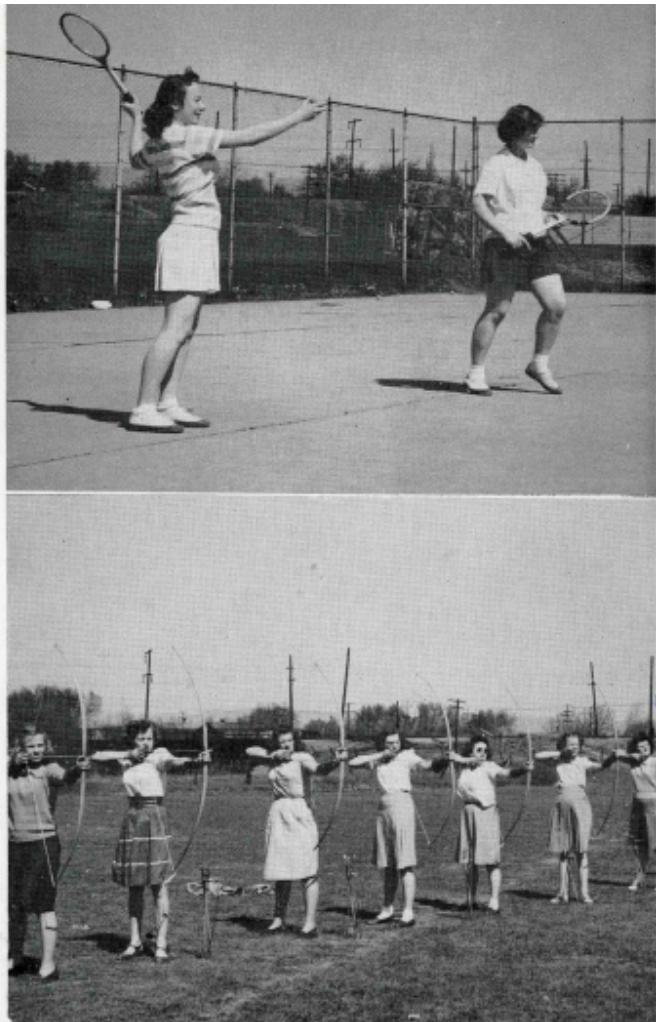

CO-CHAMPIONS

Central and Cheney developed the first dead-lock in Winco league history when each team wound up its season with identical 11-11 records. Central and Cheney split their series with a 45-35 game for Central, and a 50-43 game for Eastern.

As a result of a conference between Red Reese of Eastern and Leo Nicholson of Central, the League Title remained a co-title, with the play-off winner going to Kansas City to compete in the quarter-finals.

In the play-off game, Central dropped a 55-67 score to Cheney, who made the trip to participate in the quarter-finals in Kansas City, immediately following the play-off game.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Adapted Activities, American Dance, Archery, Badminton, Ballroom Dancing, Basic Rhythms, Basic Skills of Physical Education, Conditioning Exercises, Dance I, Dance II, Golf, Paddle Tennis, Skiing, Riding, Sports, to include basketball, field ball, field hockey, soccer, softball, speedball and volleyball, Stunts and Tumbling, Swimming, and Tennis are the activity courses offered each year for women students in Central. Each class meets daily for one hour throughout the quarter and one credit is given toward graduation.

Many departmental courses are offered in the field of Physical and Health Education for women students also, who plan to do their major and minor work in these fields.

Central had few lettermen back this year for track, however, there were close to forty men to represent the Wildcats in the 1947 conference. Central dropped a first and second to Cheney and Bellingham in the conference meet this season. Pushing CWC in the conference this year was Roland Flory who took first in the shotput. A large setback to the squad was the loss of John Emmenegger, a long distance man and always good for points in the mile and two-miles, who dropped out in mid-season because of a leg injury.

Coach Carmody states that the squad was good this year and has excellent prospects for a better team for the coming seasons.

Eyman, Isherwood, Clayton, Duncan, Hicks

The 1947 Tennis season for Central was completed with a successful note, having won seven out of eleven matches in the regular season's schedule. With Joe Clayton, acting as Coach, the boys did some very good playing and participated in the Conference meet held at Central on May 23rd and 24th. Along with the fellows shown in the pictures, Erling Oakland also participated in the tournament.

COACH ARNOLD FAUST

With winter sports behind, Central turns its competitive spirit toward spring sports. New on the campus was baseball, this season being the first in eighteen years that CWC men have raced the bases or swung the hickory.

Coach Faust's squad did not pace the league, but showed great improvement during the season. Tomlinson Field was fixed up as a diamond, and all home games were played there.

The league was divided into two sections, eastern and western. The eastern section of the league consisted of Central, Eastern, and Whitworth. West of the mountains the teams were Seattle College, Western, St. Martins, and Pacific Lutheran College. The champion of the two sections played a two out of three series on May 30th and 31st.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Executive Board of the Student Government Association is that part of the organization which approves the annual SGA budget, sponsors such activities on the campus as the Freshman Orientation Program, Homecoming, Open House, inter-class competitive assemblies, both formal and informal dances, approves charters for new clubs, and provides records for use in the Student Lounge, which it also maintains.

With the great increase in enrollment at the fall quarter, the duties and responsibilities of SGA officers were likewise increased tremendously, and the success of the organization depended largely upon the co-operation received from the students which it represents.

HONOR COUNCIL

One of the most important bodies of the SGA is that of the Honor Council, which gives students the responsibility of dealing with all but two infractions of the Honor System by any students. The essential meaning of the Honor Principle is that each student is responsible for his own conduct at all times while he is a student in this college. It is the purpose of the Honor Council to deal with any infractions that may occur, and to provide appropriate disciplinary action for each individual case.

FACULTY WELFARE COMMITTEE

This committee has two functions (1) To advise the social deans, the Honor Council, and the Executive Board of the Student Government Association when advice is requested or deemed proper to be given voluntarily; (2) to act upon disciplinary cases referred to it by the social deans or by the Honor Council.

ASSOCIATED WOMEN STUDENTS

Associated Women Students is second largest organization on the campus, and includes all the women enrolled here.

The main purpose of A. W. S. is to sponsor entertainment for the entire student body. Each quarter, some major affair is given. Fall quarter—Orientation Tea for freshmen, Student-Faculty Welcoming Tea, the traditional Snowball, tolo formal dance, and the annual Christmas Tea. Winter quarter—A very successful Coffee Hour for students and faculty in the Student Lounge. Spring—Annual Mother's Day Weekend. Summer—A. W. S. Garden Party.

Besides these entertainments, A. W. S. furnishes scholarships of $25 each to two deserving freshman women and a scholarship plaque to the women's living group with the highest average scholastic record. A loan fund is made available to any woman on the campus through A. W. S.

A. W. S. furnishes the equipment used in the kitchens of Sue Lombard Hall and Kamola, and dishes are available for use by any group of girls for special occasions.

The Associated Women Students' Council wishes to express its appreciation to those students who helped to make this past year a successful one by understanding the merits and importance of A. W. S. as it functions nationwide on every campus in America.

INTERCOLLEGiate KNIGHTS

The Claw chapter of the Intercollegiate Knights has completed its tenth year as a member of the national service honorary. Service is the motivating factor of the organization whose members ask only to be allowed to serve.

The many routine duties such as guiding, ushering, policing, and assisting in any number of ways are regular functions of the I. K.'s.

Sharing heavily in important A. S. B. functions, the Claws heightened Homecoming with their colorful coronation of Queen Virginia Adolf. Athletic coaches commended the I. K.'s for their aid in expediting games during the football, basketball, and track events.

Next year, under Duke Dwight Dart, the Claws will work to strengthen the A. S. B. in every possible way, to add to the success of any and all school functions, and to perform in such a way as to fulfill their pledge of Service, Sacrifice, and Loyalty.

IYOPTIANS

Every year, during Mother's Day Weekend, the new Iyoptians for the following year are announced. Their qualifications are many, for they include scholarship, leadership, integrity, inspiration, and industry. They are a Sophomore service honorary group, and all year they perform various tasks such as floating at teas, entertaining freshmen girls, and ushering at many of the college functions.

HERODOTEANS

The club had International Relations as its motif this year. Guest speakers at the meetings chiefly conformed to this theme.

The club constitution was amended to permit membership of social science majors. This was done with the view of giving the club a broader scope as it was formerly a History Honorary.

The program for the year included a report on the I. R. C. conference at Marylhurst, Oregon, by Hubert Beatty; book review on Iwo Jima by Lois Bell; talk and pictures on India, by Miss Brain; "Effects of Recent Election" by Dr. Wilmeth; report on Reed (PNCC) Conference by Betty Shelton and Hubert Beatty; round table on Social Sciences and a Bean Feed.

Adviser for the club is Dr. Samuel Mohler.

WHITBECK CLUB

Students who are majors or minors in geography or especially interested in the field of geography are invited to join Whitbeck Club. Activities of the club consisted of meetings which were devoted to talks or movies presented by people who have traveled and have interesting geographical information to give to the club.

A Whitbeck Club breakfast was held during the spring quarter. Adviser for the club is Dr. Reginald Shaw.

ASSOCIATION FOR CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

The main objective of this organization is to provide a means by which members interested in elementary school education may achieve professional improvement and enjoy professional fellowship through exchanging ideas and experiences, receiving news of the wider educational world, making social contacts, and promoting better educational opportunities for children everywhere.

Teachers, supervisors, educational administrators, and others interested in the problems of early childhood education are eligible for membership. The Central Washington College group includes mostly students interested in kindergarten-primary education.

Officers for A. C. E. this year were: President, Elna Holt; Vice President, Virginia Olson; Secretary, Barbara Wilkinson; Treasurer, Virginia Adolf; Social Committee, Dolores Neidhold; Publicity Chairman, Mary Blomberg; Adviser, Alice Marie Jensen.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Having a membership of forty-seven students, the Home Economics Club has been very active on the campus this year. It has provided worthwhile social and business experience for its members under the excellent supervision of Miss Redmond, club adviser, and Miss Michaelsen, head of the Home Economics department.

Meetings were held once each month, with guest speakers and special guests honored. Miss Michaelsen spoke to the group at the first meeting on the "History of Home Economics." Initiation filled the program for the next affair. An address on "New Electrical Equipment" by Mrs. Sablin, with the veterans' wives as special guests constituted the third club event. In February, Mrs. Woods, from the C. E. S. staff, presented "The Child in the Home." The March meeting was held in conjunction with the State Home Economics meeting and the Province XIII Workshop, which gave the students an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with professional opportunities in Home Economics and to meet state, national and local Home Economists. At the April meeting, Miss Brain, from the college English department, spoke to the club on "Family Life in China and India," and Open House for Junior and Senior high school girls interested in Home Economics was sponsored in May. The last affair of the year was given in honor of the Seniors in the club, with installation of 1947-48 officers. At all meetings there were two assistants to the Program Chairman, and hostesses who always served delightful refreshments.

MASKERS AND JESTERS

The CWC drama club, Maskers and Jesters, was dormant during the war years, but revived during the winter quarter with a nucleus of former members and the cast of "George Washington Slept Here."

Activities of the club have included informal social gatherings and a dinner in the Blue Room of the N. Y. Cafe, discussions of one-act plays and the presentation of two, and assisting in the make-up of the cast of the "Mikado."

The constitution of the club was changed this year to include a point system for determining eligibility of new members.

Officers of the club were: Master Masker, George Maneff; Minor Masker, Leonard Juhnke; Pen and Money Masker, Naydene Johnson; and Fun Masker, Christine Nesbitt. Norman Howell was adviser of the club.

PAN-AMERICAN LEAGUE

The Pan-American League sponsored two main activities on the campus this year. A dance was given in the Spanish theme by the club and was a very marked success. Mrs. Ernest Nelson, a wife of an American engineer from Chile, South America, was brought to the campus by the club. She spoke in both Spanish and English, and was an excellent speaker. The Seattle Star carried a feature story about Mrs. Nelson and her daughter who lives in Bogota, Colombia.

Officers for the League were: President, John Scheirbeck; Vice President, Marie Scheirbeck; Secretary, Laura Dearing; and Treasurer, James Ware. Dennis Hannan was the League's faculty adviser.

INTER-VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship is an inter-denominational organization of college students interested in Christ and His way of life. This organization is an international club found all over the U. S. and other countries also.

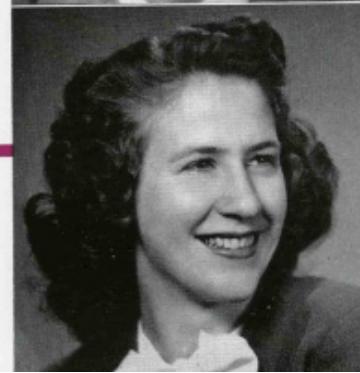

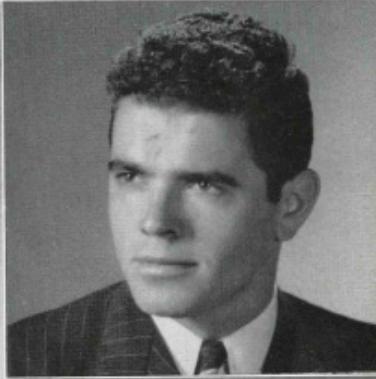

In December the local chapter gave a banquet in the East Room of the First Presbyterian Church. Seventy-five people enjoyed the gala occasion. In March the group had another banquet in the Blue Room of the N. Y. Cafe.

Other activities of interest were a movie which Inter-Varsity sponsored entitled "God of Creation," and special speakers who were brought to our campus each quarter for a week of special meetings.

This chapter meets weekly for one hour meetings.

CRIMSON W CLUB

With the return of its war-veteran members, the W Club enlarged to one of its all-time peaks in membership, totaling fifty-two, without the basketball or spring sports lettermen.

To gain admission into the W Club, a person must first win his Crimson W in any one of the major sports, football, basketball, track, tennis, golf, or baseball. A unanimous vote is required by all club members before one may enter the club.

The 1946-47 year, under the presidency of Jack Hubbard, was an outstanding year. The club sponsored programs for both basketball and football, thus servicing the students. The annual W Club smoker was a huge success, with several good bouts in boxing and wrestling. The W Club Colonial Ball Queen, Betty Jo Partridge, was crowned after being elected by the students.

Besides these events, the Club performed such services as moving bleachers to Wenatchee, buying floral bouquets for hospitalized members and their families, entering a skit and sign for the Homecoming programs, presenting inspirational awards to certain members of the school's athletic teams, and many other services. The W Club bulletin, a new addition in the student walkway, is a result of the drive of this year's club.

In the spring the W Club picnic and banquet are featured events on the club's program, which has proved to be the club's biggest in history.

Besides President Jack Hubbard, the officers of the club are: Bill Langenbacher, Vice President; Jim Adamson, Secretary and Treasurer; and Russell Victor, Sergeant-at-Arms.

WOMEN'S RECREATIONAL ASSN.

Sports activities for WRA during the year have included volley ball in the fall, basketball and badminton in the winter, and baseball and tennis during the spring quarter. Regular turn-outs are sponsored by this association, and members are admitted into the organization through a certain number of turn-outs in the activities which WRA sponsors.

The social activities of the club have been very successful during the year. During the fall quarter, a fireside for new and old members was held at the club adviser's home, Miss Jess Puckett. In the winter quarter, the annual WRA formal banquet and initiation was held in the New York Cafe, and in the spring quarter, the traditional Strawberry Festival and the Annual Camping Trip were the outstanding events of the club.

Associate advisers for the club are Miss Karla Mogenson and Miss Delores Garrison. Officers for this year were: Pat Casey, President; Nella Bledsoe, Vice President; Lee Gaviorno, Secretary; Nella Bledsoe, Treasurer; Monterie Fossler, Social Commissioner; and Jean Sampson, Sports Manager.

Sixth row: Sanders; Schumann; Schumack; Sharp; Snow; Sprowl; Svare.
Seventh row: Torseth; Troutman; Violetta; Vudicich; Wilkinson; Wood.

Each unit has held its own social meetings at various times.

During fall quarter a potluck dinner was held in the women's gym. The speaker for the event was Mr. McArthur, who talked on Co-operative Buying.

VETVILLE

At the beginning of the year, a new club was organized which represented the married veterans who were attending Central. This club is commonly known to all personnel on the campus as "Vetville."

Officers for the club were: Mayor, Bud Garrison; Social Commissioner, Sammy Schroeder; Treasurer, Howard Foster; and Secretary, Douglas Vanderpool.

There is one member from each unit on the council which makes a total of twelve members. The council has been working on adequate street lighting in the project, as well as a laundry which would be used by everyone in the project.

WALNUT STREET DORMS

At the beginning of the winter quarter, the students moved from the airport barracks to the newly erected housing projects. The projects were converted into dormitories. They were named Carmody, Munro, and Alfrod Halls, after former students who had lost their lives in World War II.

It was quite a relief for the fellows to move into the new dorms, because the uncertain bus schedules and unreliable drivers made living out at the barracks a very inconvenient situation.

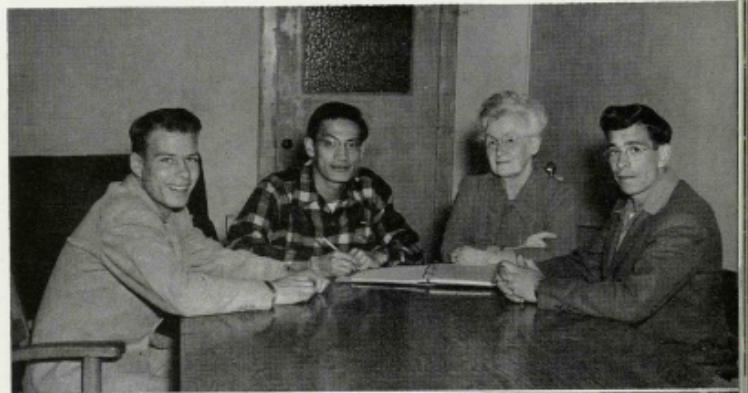

The students were more than pleased with their new homes and found them more than a relief compared to the old barracks. Although the walls were far from sound-proof, and the trains made considerable noise, the fellows appear to appreciate the new dorm very much.

THE STAFF

CAMPUS CRIER

Published weekly as the official publication of the Student Government Association, the Campus Crier was enlarged to an eight page paper during the winter quarter.

Outstanding features of the paper this year were the Homecoming Edition, sponsoring the Campus Baby Derby, special articles on the Student Union Building, and the Bachelor of Arts Bill, and the Reed College Conference.

Lois Bell was editor of the Crier at the beginning of fall quarter. Ross Jackson edited it for four issues and Gene Montague took over the duties to the end of winter quarter. Co-editors for spring quarter were Lois Bell and Molly Hewson.

Publications adviser for fall and winter quarters was Don Franke and for spring quarter, Bert Cross.

SUE LOMBARD HALL

The Sue Lombard girls started the school year off with a bang by going out full force in the Homecoming celebration. As a result of their efforts, they won first place with their skit, first place with their float, and second place with their sign.

Shortly after the excitement of Homecoming faded away, the Sue girls initiated their freshmen girls in the true Sue style. Sue joined with Kamola in sponsoring a dance in the Old Gym, and also joined with Kamola and Off-Campus Women in Christmas caroling during the Holiday Season.

Sue proved itself an all-around house by having firesides and parties, and its annual spring formal, "Blossom Time," for which the hall was attractively decorated with spring blossoms of all kinds, with a beautiful garden setting for the Gentlemen of Note in the Brick Room.

The living atmosphere in Sue Lombard has been most pleasant during the year, which contributed greatly to Sue's winning the AWS Scholarship Plaque again this year, having its possession three years in succession.

KAMOLA HALL

At the beginning of the school year the $64 question was: Is it possible to get over 200 girls into this dorm? For a time it looked doubtful, but with determination and patience, the job was completed. There were girls in the laundry room, girls in the halls, and girls in the basement.

Kamola entered into the Homecoming celebration with much enthusiasm. A sign was erected in the front yard welcoming all grads, a skit for stunt night was performed, and a float was entered in the parade. Kamola was very proud of our Homecoming queen, Virginia Adolf, and both princesses, Marcy White and Betty Svare.

Halloween and Christmas were celebrated by parties in true Kamola fashion with entertainment and refreshments.

Something new was tried this year. The hall was divided into six sections with a representative from each to act on the house council. This plan has been very successful.

Many parties, teas, and firesides were held throughout the year, topped off with the Moonglow formal in spring quarter.

The congeniality and good will which have prevailed throughout the year is credited to the housemothers, Mrs. Means and Mrs. Prater, who have given their services unselfishly at all times.

OFF-CAMPUS WOMEN'S CLUB

Composed of Central Washington College women students not residing on the campus, the Off-Campus Women's Club undertakes three main activities during the year.

This organization is responsible for the publication of the WHO'S WHO at CWCE, a directory of all student and faculty members at the college.

During the winter quarter the Off-Campus Women presented the annual carnival which was held in the old gym. Booths of games, a fortune-teller, and dancing were the features of the evening.

On May third the group sponsored the annual May Prom in the new gym. With "Mais Oui" as the central theme for the formal dance, the setting was that of a French street cafe. Music for the affair was provided by the Gentlemen of Note.

MUNSON HALL

Munson Hall started off its calendar of events by participating in Homecoming activities. Features for that weekend included a skit for Stunt Night, a welcoming sign, and, thanks to a midget auto, the float in the parade winning honorable mention.

A very successful fireside was held fall quarter for the fellows of Munson and their dates. Games, refreshments and dancing were enjoyed by those attending. A winter quarter fireside was held and proved highly successful.

Winter quarter found Munson Hall a self-governing body in an agreement worked out with the Dean of Men and the officers of Munson. General conduct was made each individual's responsibility and results were found very gratifying.

Munson officers for fall quarter were: President, Woodrow Wilson; Sec. and Treas., Hilton Grandstaff; Sgt.-at-Arms, Roland Flory; and Soc. Comm., Ron Rhodes.

For winter quarter: President, Ray Jongeward; Vice Pres., Harry Flesher; Sec. and Treas., Vic Heinlen; Sgt.-at-Arms, Clarence George; and Soc. Comm., Phil George.

For spring quarter: President, Ralph Sherwood; Vice Pres., Dominic Bort; Sec. and Treas., Bob Jones; Sgt.-at-Arms, Dave Marsh; and Soc. Comm., Harry Flesher.

HOMECOMING 1946

The traditional activities of Homecoming were carried on this year beginning with Alumni Registration. Memories were restored for visiting alumni when students and organizations participated in the big opening Stunt Night, an evening of real entertainment. At this time, Queen Virginia Adolf was escorted to her throne by Princesses Betty Svare and Marcella White, and crowned by Dr. McConnell.

Following Stunt Night, the traditional serpentine was formed, and continued all the way down town where singing and cheering for the Wildcats was carried on, and back to the campus where the Bonfire built by the Freshman class was burning high. School songs, yells, and cheers continued until the fire burned low.

Saturday morning found each club featuring its entry in the all-college Homecoming Parade. In the afternoon, the Central Wildcats defeated the Cheney Savages. Saturday evening, the annual Homecoming Banquet for alumni, juniors and seniors was held, and the evening was concluded by the big dance in the men's gym.

Co-chairmen for the 1946 Homecoming were Liz Brower and Jim Bow.

HOMECOMING SIGNS - BANQUET

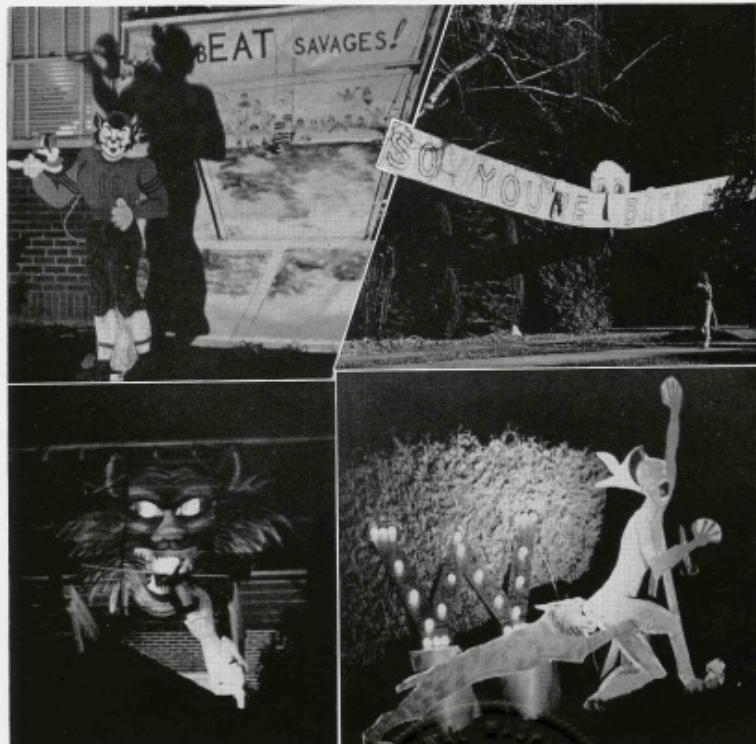

First prize for advertising Homecoming went to the Freshman class for the large "So You're Back" sign hung near the Administration Building. Second prize for signs went to Sue Lombard Hall, whose large Wildcat head with a Savage in its mouth was displayed on the balcony of the front of their hall.

Toastmaster Ray Jongeward officially presided over the Homecoming banquet on Saturday evening in the college dining hall. Dr. Robert E. McConnell, President, delivered the address of welcome, and Mr. Ernest L. Muzzall, Central Washington's Director of Instruction and counselor of veterans' affairs delivered a short address to those present. Mr. Loren Troxel of Everett, well-known CWC alumni replied to the welcome address, and also presided over the alumni meeting which was held in the dining hall immediately after the banquet.

Vocalist for the occasion was Dorothy Johnston, alumni of 1946.

Chairman for the banquet was Marcella White.

The affair was closed in traditional fashion by the singing of the Alma Mater.

HOMECOMING PARADE

The annual Homecoming Parade was held Saturday, November 9th. It featured many novel and attractive floats. Center of attractions of the parade was the car attended by I. K.'s which carried Queen Virginia and Princesses Betty and Marcie.

The float which won first prize in the parade was entered by Sue Lombard Hall. This masterpiece was based on the football theme and carried Dorothy Swope and Pat Wynne dressed as football players, and signs indicating "Sue's in the Groove."

Second prize went to the entry of the Associated Women Students featuring a cheering section. Third prize was won by Kappa Pi.

Other floats ranged from a fertilizer spreader to Mac McRobbie's miniature car. There were fifteen floats in all. The College Band furnished the music.

Chairman for the parade was Dwight Dart; his committee consisted of Mary Viducich and Roy (Tiny) Jorgensen.

HOMECOMING STUNT NIGHT

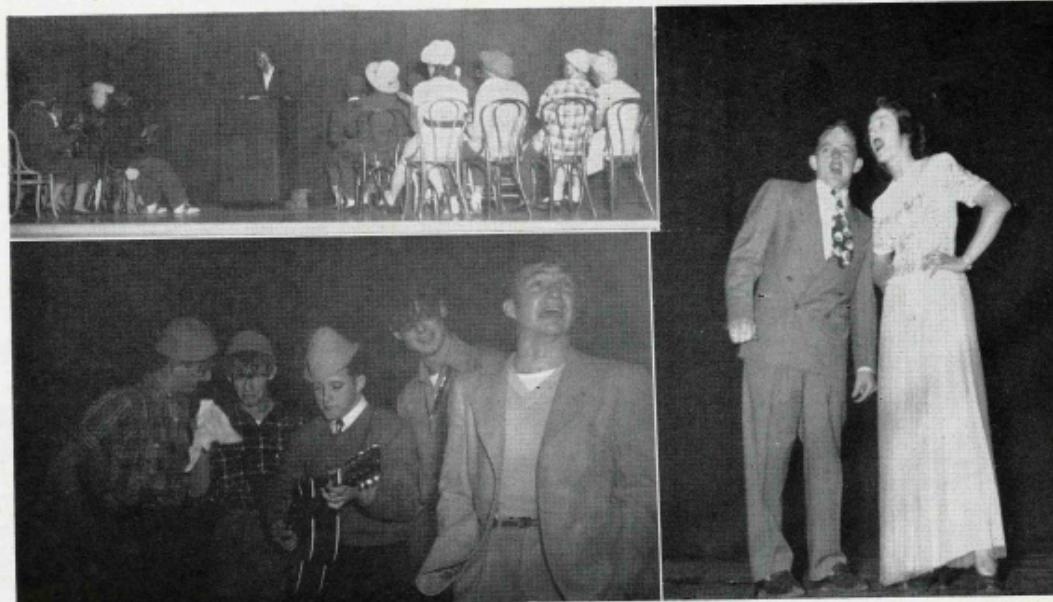

Held Friday night, November 8th, Stunt Night at times had all the ear-marks of organized confusion. Odd characters wandered up and down the aisles competing with the attractions on stage; at one time a gentleman descended from the balcony on a rope.

With Jim Adamson as Master of Ceremonies, acts were presented by all organizations on the campus.

Featured during the evening of entertainment was the crowning of Queen Virginia by Dr. McConnell. Princesses Betty and Marcie attended the Queen, and were escorted to the stage by the I. K. Guard.

Festivities began after the crowning of the Queen. Sue Lombard Hall's entry in Stunt Night won first prize; it was a very effective rendition of "Frankie and Johnny" acted on the stage to the accompaniment of a duet by two Sue Lombardians.

A great deal of school talent was unearthed at this program.

A. W. S. SNOWBALL

A huge revolving snowball suspended in the center of the men's gymnasium and constructed by the Intercollegiate Knights, was the main attraction of the Snowball, a formal all-college Tolo. The decorations very appropriately carried out the colorful wintertime theme, having a tinsel ceiling, ski lodge background for the orchestra, log cabin setting for the refreshment center, and frosted trees.

Guests were welcomed into the wintertime atmosphere by the patrons and patronesses.

Co-chairmen for the dance were Elna Holt and Betty Svare. Music was presented by The Collegians.

Souvenirs of the dance were in the form of small snowballs which fell on the dancers when the large snowball burst near the end of the evening.

COLONIAL BALL

The last weekend of winter quarter was highlighted by the Colonial Ball, formal dance sponsored by the Student Government Association. The decorations very appropriately carried out the Colonial theme. Music was furnished by the Gentlemen of Note.

Reigning as Queen for the event, Miss Betty Jo Partridge was crowned by the W Club, who sponsored her and her courtly princesses, Miss Naydene Johnson and Miss Colleen Smith.

After the crowning of the queen, a group of young boys and girls from Thorp, dressed in 17th Century costumes, danced the minuet.

Vic Heinlen and Phil George were co-chairmen of this successful affair.

BAR W DANCE

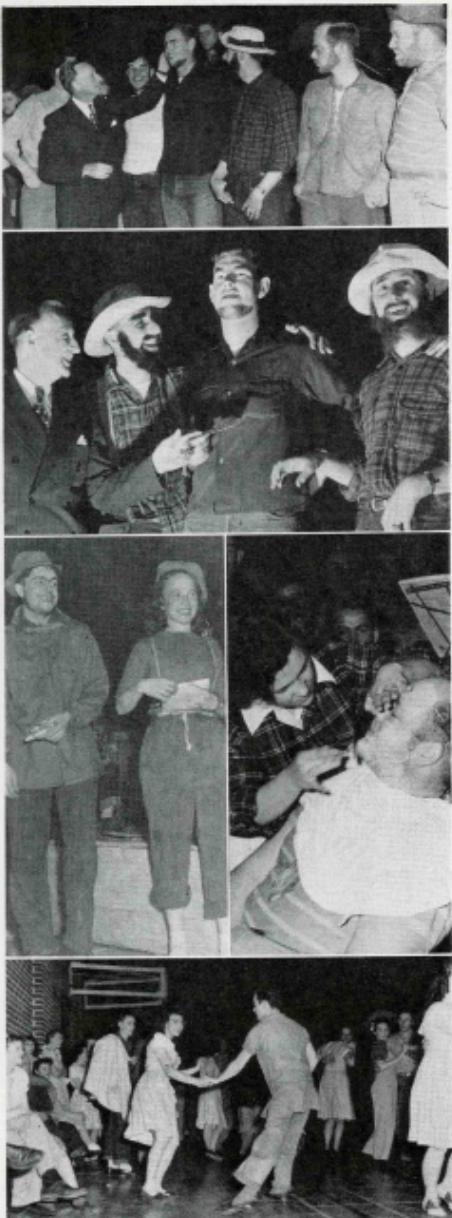

Clad in plaid shirts, jeans, cowboy boots, and ten-gallon hats, those who entered the Bar W Dance, by way of a cow chute, enjoyed a real evening of fun in a western-style atmosphere, cleverly portrayed in the old gym by members of the Men's Pep Club.

Free rides with real "cowboy protection" in the old stagecoach drawn by horses were provided for those who wished to take their chances.

Miniature beer mugs with Bar W tags attached were presented at the door as tickets and were also used as a sign of thirst when thrust down on the bar, behind which stood appropriately dressed bartenders, mustaches and all. The grape juice was excellent—the pretzels, too!

Intermission time brought a volunteer cigarette-rolling contest, and during the course of the evening a hold-up was staged, whereupon free drinks were given on the house.

In the traditional barnyard atmosphere with beards, jeans and overalls, and to the music of McKnight's Orchestra, guests at the Junior Class Annual Barn Dance enjoyed both popular and old-time dancing. Square-dancing with the floor filled with lively sets, old-time schottisches and polkas, and the Virginia Reel were highlights of the evening.

Intermission time climaxed the end of the two-week beard growing contest. Winners of the contest were: Ronald (Tiny) Flory, longest; Roy Jorgensen, blackest; Everett Arnold, reddest; and Edwin Adams, shortest. To Phyllis Hunt and Warren Scott (now Mr. and Mrs. Scott) went the prize for the most cleverly dressed couple, and the lucky winners of the fried chicken raffle were John Donahue and Bob Jacobson. Barb Clark had the honor of shaving the longest beard winner, after which refreshments were served to a large crowd who attended the informal affair.

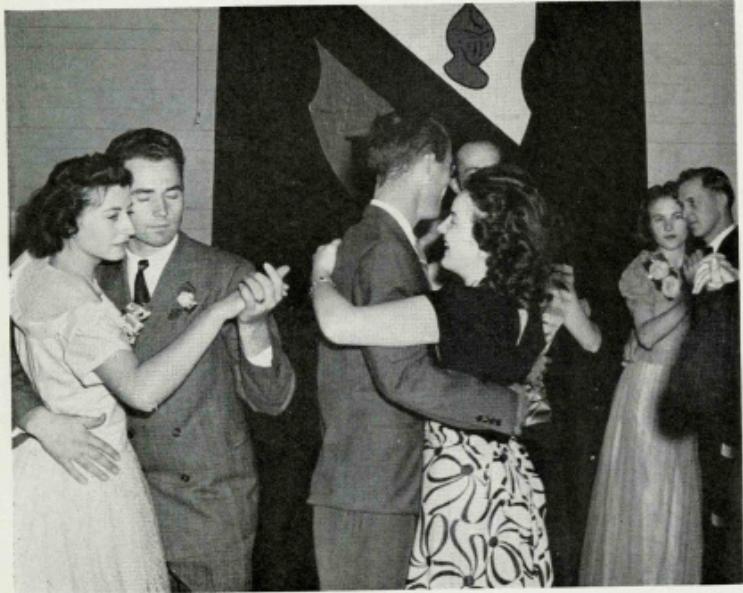

CUPID'S INFORMAL

In a setting of red and white with Dan Cupid in the spotlight, the Cupid's Informal was held in the new gym the day following St. Valentine's Day. Hailed as one of the outstanding social events of the season, the Tolo dance was sponsored by the Sophomore class. Music was presented by the Music Makers.

As one of the fine traditions of the Cupid's Informal, this year's dance was highlighted by the crowning of Ron Rhoades, reigning for the evening as King. He was escorted to the throne by six Iyoptians, and crowned King by Mrs. Hitchcock, Dean of Women. During the first part of the intermission Don Duncan sang two numbers, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Good-night, Sweet-heart."

Tickets for the evening included red hearts for the women, and black arrows upon which were written "STUCK" for the men.

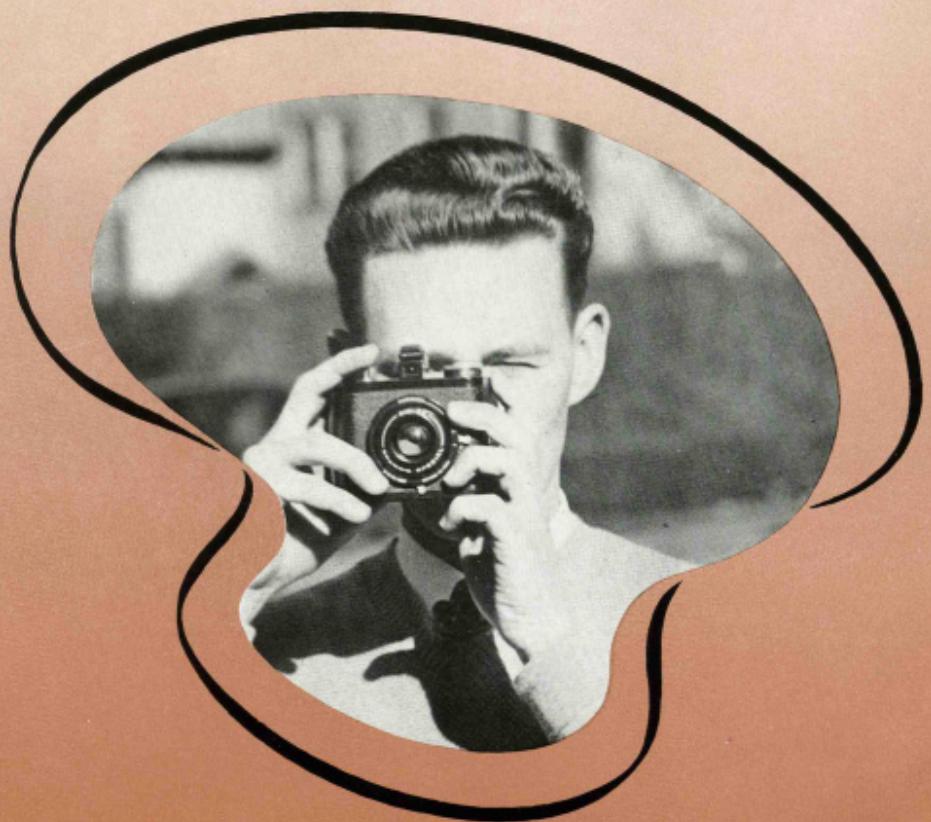

I. K. FORMAL

Sponsored by the Intercollegiate Knights, the first formal dance of the year was given November sixteenth in the new gym. In a setting of a medieval castle decorated by shields with the I. K. emblem, couples danced to the tunes of the Music Makers. Although formal, the affair was not a program dance.

Committee heads were: Dwight Dart and Harry Flesher, decorations; Ray Jongeward, tickets and advertising; Don Howard and Hal Chambers, music; and Howard Foster, clean-up.

KELLY USES KEROSENE

It seemed like a good idea at the time, for Kelly could fill the tank for half the money gas would cost (And sure, it looks just like gasoline!). But Kelly didn't get so far—either with Myrtle, or with his car.

"It stinks," she said, "and it bucks, and knocks, and it won't go fast. You said you had a hot rod, but this is just a sad jalopy." Lucky for you, it is, that this particular Kelly wasn't on the staff that got out this annual, or you might be feeling as Myrtle did.

Maybe you think it's a breeze, getting out a book like this—just a matter of picking jokes and snapping snappy snapshots. Far from it friends—there's been many a long hour put in working hard and late. And not the least of the work and worry by the staff was being sure they didn't get kerosene when they ordered gasoline!

That's why they worked with the best printer they could get, and had us make the engravings. We have been specialists in school annuals for 40 years, and know the answers. We work with the editors, artists, photographers, faculty and the printer to help turn out the finest yearbook it is possible to print.
